

INDUCTION POLICY AND PROCEDURE

1. POLICY STATEMENT

The Education (Independent School Standards) Regulations 2014 require that all staff, including non-teaching staff, volunteers, trustees, and visiting music teachers are thoroughly vetted before appointment and then trained in child protection policies and procedures. The requirement applies to everyone who is likely to have contact with children and young people, irrespective of whether they are employees of the school or, for example, employees of a catering company based in a school. Schools are advised to give this training to new staff and volunteers as they arrive throughout the year. The only exceptions are occasional visitors, who are escorted throughout their visit, or those, such as early morning or night-time cleaners who work exclusively when pupils are not present. Trustees must be offered child protection training shortly after appointment, and the topic must appear on the agendas of Trustees' meetings once a year, when the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) presents their report.

The School invests considerable time in the induction training of new staff, covering a number of different aspects in addition to safeguarding, relating to the functioning and management of the school. Most of this training is likely to centre round the individual's role and responsibilities however child protection induction must be included in all induction processes, irrespective of role. The training will be factual in content, and details will be held on employee staff records.

2. SCOPE

This policy applies to all new employees and to employees transferring to new posts.

The procedures in the Appendices outline specific elements for permanent staff, zero hours staff and freelance creative staff.

Line Managers must ensure the relevant induction process is followed; where they are unsure, they must seek advice from the Head of HR for specific elements of induction to be included.

3. RELATED POLICIES

This policy should be read in conjunction with:

- Safeguarding Policy
- IT Acceptable Use Policy
- Safer Recruitment Policy and Procedure
- Staff Code of Conduct

- Staff Handbook
- Whistleblowing Policy
- Keeping Children Safe in Education Guidance

4. INDUCTION PROCEDURES SPECIFIC TO CHILD PROTECTION

New members of teaching and non-teaching staff must attend a training session on child protection. These sessions are organised by HR and the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL), and every effort will be made to hold them within the first week of arrival. Employees of Brookwood, the firm that runs the School's catering must also receive training in child protection.

Individuals who work or visit the school who are exempted from this requirement are:

- Night-time / early morning cleaners whose hours of work mean that they do not have contact with pupils.
- Occasional visitors, including occasional lecturers and contractors, who sign in and are given a security badge by the School's Receptionist and are escorted throughout their visit.
- Contractors working on a designated site that is physically separated from the rest of the school who are required to sign in and out at their site office and to wear security badges at all times.
- Freelance staff who work in HE and do not have contact with Day School pupils or have access to Day School areas (who will receive an abridged induction process).
- Contractors working during the school holidays.

5 PURPOSE OF SAFEGUARDING TRAINING

Child protection must be the School's key priority in every activity that is undertaken; every member of staff needs to be confident from Day 1 that they understand their role in:

- Keeping pupils / students safe;
- Promoting the welfare of pupils and students;
- Promoting equal opportunities and inclusion;
- Preventing bullying and harassment.

All members of staff (permanent, freelance and zero hours) are required to formally read the school's Code of Conduct and all permanent staff will receive online Level 2 Safeguarding training in line with advice from the Local Safeguarding Children Board.

All non-permanent staff are required to read the relevant Safeguarding Policy and receive a safeguarding briefing from their Line Manager.

All staff holding responsibility as a Designated Safeguarding Lead must undertake Level 3 safeguarding training.

6 TOPICS COVERED DURING SAFEGUARDING INDUCTION

Safeguarding Induction training will include:

6.1 Pupil / student welfare procedures including the role of The Trustee's, the Senior Leadership Board, DSL's, Personal Tutors (HE), and Heads of Year.

6.2 Pastoral meetings; monitoring arrangements by the Heads of year; and partnerships with parents and guardians.

6.3 The School's arrangements for providing additional support for pupils with special educational needs (SEN) and for whom English is an additional language (EAL);

6.4 The legal framework for child protection and anti-bullying policies including:

- Anti-bullying
- Pupil / Student Behaviour
- Disability, Special Educational Needs and Learning Difficulties
- Equal Opportunities
- Educational Visits
- Safer Recruitment in Education
- Arrangements for checking volunteers, contractors' staff, freelance staff and HE staff.
- The safe supervision of visitors
- Keeping Children Safe in Education
- Working Together to Safeguard Children

6.5 All new staff (teaching and non-teaching) must be made aware of the school's policies on their responsibility for supervising pupils and ensuring that their behaviour is in line with relevant policies; their role in building positive relationships, identifying risks, and keeping everyone safe and the school's IT Acceptable Use Policy including the risk of online bullying. Teaching staff must be made aware of requirement to be alert to the signs of bullying and pupils / students at risk of radicalisation. All staff must undertake the Prevent training programme (<https://www.elearning.prevent.homeoffice.gov.uk/>)

6.6 The School draws upon national guidance relating to the safeguarding and protection of children, the signs of abuse, and the duties of staff, as well as the role of specialist agencies. Expectations of how staff should respond in a difficult situation and why they cannot promise confidentiality to a student or pupil must be explained.

6.7 The School will ensure staff receive copies of the school's policies on child protection including the following:

- Safeguarding Policy
- Pupils and Confidentiality Issues
- Whistleblowing Policy
- Staff Code of Conduct
- The identity and role of the DSL and Deputy DSL(s)
- The name of the designated Trustee(s) for safeguarding
- The IT Acceptable Use Policy
- Responsibilities under the Prevent strategy.

Copies of these documents can be found on the School's website. The School also draws upon official guidance, such as 'Keeping Children Safe in Education'; and all staff and volunteers are required to have read Part 1 of the guidance.

6.8 Visitors and site security

The School will discuss the need for visitors to be signed in at Reception and to be escorted about the school.

6.9 Effective record keeping

The School will explain the need to ensure that all records are held in line with GDPR and emphasise the seriousness with which this responsibility is taken and complied with.

6.10 Refresher Training

The School will explain that all staff must receive appropriate safeguarding and child protection training and receive regular updates by way of formal training if required by the DfE or by way of staff briefings (at least annually).

7. GENERAL INDUCTION

Line Managers must agree early expectations with new team members, (allowing them to quickly focus on their role), to develop sound organisational knowledge and to become fully effective in their role and behaving in a way that is consistent with the Staff Code of Conduct and Safeguarding Policies.

The School will involve new employees early on in their employment, and will provide the necessary resources, facilities and training to ensure they feel empowered to take on their responsibilities, to contribute to organisational and departmental demands, to raise concerns if necessary, to bring forward new ideas and concepts to maximise their potential, to support the school's aims and to ensure that the needs and expectations of pupils and students are met.

Our induction programme is intended to ensure the new staff member is:

- Integrated well into their team;
- Motivated to be successful in their role;
- Clear about the principles and standards of behaviour required as outlined in the Staff Code of Conduct;
- Able to fulfil their full potential, have a high level of productivity and meet the needs of pupils and students;
- Engaged and confident in their role so that they may contribute to improvements and raise concerns if necessary.

8. KEY PRINCIPALS

The School's Induction process provides a consistent but flexible approach to induction by:

- Ensuring all staff are fully aware of their responsibilities to safeguard pupils and students and understand how to raise concerns when necessary;
- Providing new employees with core information (allowing for adjustment depending on the role, responsibilities and experience);
- Familiarising new employees with the visions and values of the School including equity, equality, transparency, and fairness;
- Establishing the formal process of setting and reviewing objectives from the start of employment;
- Demonstrating the importance placed on good performance within teams, the School's commitment to the development of team members, and the value of collaborative forms of working;
- Enabling swift corrective measures to be implemented when performance falls below the expected standard;
- Enabling formal capability procedures where agreed objectives are not met at all;

- Ensuring that no employee is placed at a disadvantage. Managers must make reasonable adjustments to accommodate any specific needs of individuals, providing the maximum support available to enable them to undertake their role.

9. RESPONSIBILITIES FOR INDUCTION

Head of HR will:

- Issue guidelines, checklists and advice on the process to line managers and other involved in inductions, providing training to Line Managers as required.
- Maintain and update the Induction Policy and related procedures;
- Ensure there is effective monitoring of individual induction processes;
- Deal with any problems promptly providing an efficient service for both line managers and staff;
- Provide the relevant formal training courses for the induction process;
- Provide advice on induction for individuals with specific requirements;
- Ensure that documents are completed, signed off and held on staff files.

Line managers will:

- Ensure new employees complete the appropriate induction process within the agreed timescale;
- Allocate sufficient time and personally commit the time required for successful inductions;
- Support employees and encourage and enable them to be proactive in their induction;
- Ensure that new employees understand their role and expected standards;
- Ensure that new employees understand how their performance will be monitored throughout the induction period, and the implications of failing to meet the expected standard of performance throughout the induction period;
- Guide new employees through the information and support available to them;
- Maintain induction records and provide copies to HR once complete;
- Ensure new employees quickly gain an understanding of the School's aims and ethos;
- Ensure that measures are implemented expeditiously when the progress is not meeting expectations.

New staff member will undertake to:

- Carry out all induction activities in line with set deadlines;
- Be proactive and take ownership of their induction with the support of their line manager;
- Apply the knowledge and skills gained through induction when performing in their role;
- Ask for additional help as required;
- Provide HR with certificates of all training undertaken where available;
- Request extensions to deadlines if needed;
- Provide feedback at the end of the Induction process upon request.

If the employee must commence tasks from day one:

An urgent departure, urgent task or other matter might mean an employee is needed to carry out their duties as soon as they start. Where that is the case, be open with the employee about why they are needed urgently but ensure they will start their induction as soon as possible to understand their role and feel a part of the School. In addition, find ways to help the employee until the induction, such as arranging a short daily 'check-in session' with a colleague. Make sure that legal necessities such as health and safety obligations, paperwork and bank details are still handled right away, and commit to a future date to start the induction.

If an urgent start is required, the new employee must at least have read the Staff Code of Conduct, the Safeguarding Policy, and KCSIE 2021.
